Secretary Lorenzana meets with Grade 12 students from La Salle College Antipolo

Sixty-one (61) students visited Camp Aguinaldo to learn about the workings of the Defense Department. Pictured are a number of those students and two of their faculty members with Secretary Delfin Lorenzana.

A delegation of Grade 12 students from La Salle College Antipolo (LSCA) visited the Department of National Defense for a conversation with Secretary Delfin N. Lorenzana on 18 September 2017 at the DND Conference Room in Camp Aguinaldo, Quezon City.

Secretary Lorenzana answers questions from the students on matters regarding defense and security.

DND Spokesperson Dir. Arsenio Andolong, Dir. Peter Paul Galvez of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Plans and Programs (OASPP), and Internal Audit Service Chief Atty. Ronald Rubin joined Secretary Lorenzana in briefing visiting students, which aimed to impress upon them the role of the DND in our country's stability and growth.

After a brief tour of some of the DND's programs and memorabilia, Ms. Emielynn Francisco of the OASPP provided the students with an expansive primer on the Department's Constitutional roots, mandate, structure, covered institutions and organizations, as well as the DND's direction for the future in the fields of internal stability, disaster preparedness, as well as peace and security.

Secretary Lorenzana receives the donation of face towels for the troops fighting in Marawi from the Grade 12 students of La Salle College Antipolo.

Afterwards, the LSCA delegation presented a donation of face towels for the soldiers fighting in Marawi, showing a definite sign that the future is in good hands.

La Salle College Antipolo, or La Salle Antipolo, is an educational institution located in Antipolo City, Rizal. It was founded as La Salle School by Br. Rolando Dizon FSC, a past President of De La Salle University, Manila, in 1986.
